About	A "cabin" tiled with white cedar ... The privilege is given to light, colors, hospitality, personal fulfillment, joy in strict compliance with the functionality and norms. The building frame is made of wood which gives comfort and a good insulation to the space. Investing in sustainable and recyclable materials are part of the project as well as a well studied ventilation technique and a heating system ideal for the project. Inside, the wood panels and acoustical panels are set in a way that participates to the spirit of "cabin" intended for the place and a simple job on the colors let the space and little kids breathe while giving them some landmarks ...
