

FWB ARCHITECTURE WELL REPRESENTED AT YEAH! - ESCH SUR ALZETTE

YEAH! (Young european architecture happening), the new festival of emerging architecture that takes place at the Kulturfabrik in Esch-sur-Alzette from 15 to 17 April, is a great opportunity for FWB architecture!

YEAH! Festival brings together a non-established and/or emerging generation of architects, designers and thinkers of the built environment on a European scale to exchange and share ideas, visions and experiences in a relaxed setting:

On 16 April at 1.30 pm, Maxime Delvaux will participate in the round table on photography moderated by Francelle Cane.

At 5.30 pm, Accattone will take part in the round table on publications. And at 7.30 pm, Roxane Le Grelle will host a series of 8-minute presentations with the participation of 15 international guests, each presenting a project built over the last decade. Among them, Central will present the President project.
